About Jessica Meier

Jessica Meier's practice focuses on labor law, matrimonial property and inheritance law (including estate planning) as well as general contract law. She also advises her clients on property transactions, debt collection, and bankruptcy law. She counsels private clients and companies and also represents them in court.

She completed her law studies at the University of Zurich (MLaw) in 2013. She was admitted to the Zurich Bar in 2018.

After graduating from university, she completed an internship in the legal department of a major Swiss bank and at the Dietikon District Court. She then gained in-depth experience at a business law firm in Zurich, where she worked from 2015 to September 2023.
